NVTC Adds Open House/Public Hearing at Wiehle-Reston East Metrorail Station on I-66 Multimodal Component Funding Applications

Arlington, VA – The Northern Virginia Transportation Commission (NVTC) is adding a second open house/public hearing on May 18, 2016 at Reston Station, adjacent to the Wiehle-Reston East Metrorail Station, on the multimodal components submitted for FY 2017 funding consideration as part of the Transform 66 Inside the Beltway Program. The public comment period is also being extended through close of business on May 23, 2016.

NVTC will now hold two open houses/public hearings:

- Thursday, May 5, 2016 – 6 p.m. Open House / 7 p.m. Public Hearing
2300 Wilson Blvd., Main Floor Conference Room, Arlington, VA 22201
- Wednesday, May 18, 2016 – 4:30 p.m. Open House / 6 p.m. Public Hearing
Reston Station, 1904 Reston Metro Plaza, Reston, VA 20190

For the initial round of funding, NVTC received 19 multimodal component applications from the cities of Alexandria and Falls Church; the counties of Arlington, Fairfax and Loudoun; and the Potomac and Rappahannock Transportation Commission. Requested funds for all submitted components exceed $42.6 million. A list of component applications is online at www.novatransit.org/i66multimodal.

NVTC's objective is to select and fund multimodal components that meet the Transform 66 improvement goals, which are to move more people, enhance transportation connectivity, improve transit service, reduce roadway congestion and increase travel options. Multimodal components selected for funding must benefit the users of the portion of I-66 between I-495 and U.S. Route 29 in the Rosslyn area of Arlington County. The Commission will discuss and vote to prioritize the funding of multimodal components at its meeting on June 2, 2016.

- email at i66multimodal@nvtcd.org
